

Where are they now?

Dear Applied Science Faculty & Staff,

I am currently attending the University of Minnesota School of Dentistry working towards my Doctor in Dental Surgery. Being a dentist has been a career goal of mine since middle school and it is very exciting to begin to see this goal come to life.

I am enjoying my time at the University of Minnesota, but of course miss everyone at Stout.

On a more personal note I got married in June to my boyfriend of several years, Andy Daniels, and we are enjoying married life.
