

1. Search and select a full Text article to include in your Learn@UW course.

a. Look for the “Persistent link to this record”.

b. Highlight the URL. Then right click and select COPY [or CTRL-C]

The screenshot shows the EBSCOhost interface for an article. At the top, there are navigation icons for Citation, HTML Full Text, and PDF Full Text. The article details are as follows:

- Title: DEBUNKING THE DISTANCE-LEARNING MYTH.
- Authors: Cravotta, Nicholas
- Source: EDN; 1/9/2003, Vol. 48 Issue 1, p61, 5p, 2 color
- Document Type: Article
- Subject Terms: *LEARNING strategies, *INSTRUCTIONAL systems, *DISTANCE education
- Abstract: Reports on the features of distance learning. Positive aspects of distance learning and its applications; Factors responsible for a good distance learning program; Forms of distance learning; Difference in presentation in distance and live teaching; Examples of tools for capturing content; Challenges of distance learning; Role of multimedia presentation; Lack of personal touch in distance education. INSET: FORUM-SCALABILITY ISSUES.
- Full Text Word Count: 4019
- ISSN: 00127515
- Accession Number: 8846262
- Persistent link to this record (Permalink): <http://ezproxy.lib.uwstout.edu:2048/login?url=http://search>

A blue callout box with a speech bubble points to the URL, containing the text: "Copy this url to paste into your D2L course". A red arrow points to the "PDF Full Text" link at the top of the page.

2. Now, in your Learn@UW course, on the nav bar, click Links

The screenshot shows a dark blue navigation bar for a course titled "New Instructor Workshop - Fall 2007". The navigation items are: Course Home, Content, Checklist, Quizzes, Surveys, Grades, Dropbox, and Links. A red arrow points to the "Links" item, which is highlighted with a red box.

3. Still in Learn@UW course, next click New Link

The screenshot shows the "Manage Links" interface. It features a blue header with the text "Manage Links". Below the header are four main options: "Link List", "New Category", "New Link", and "Re-Order". A red arrow points to the "New Link" option, which is highlighted with a red box.

4. On the next screen, fill in the boxes.

- a. Select, or make, the category that the link goes in.
- b. Enter the Article title.
- c. Paste the URL that you got from your article.
- d. Include a full citation in the description area.
- e. Click on Save

New Link

Link List
 New Link

* Category: Library Resources and Links [New Category]

* Title:

* URL:  [Preview]

Window:  Open in New Window

Description:  Basic Advanced

B / U |

Cravotta, N. (2003, January 9). DEBUNKING THE DISTANCE-LEARNING MYTH. EDN, 48(1), 61. Retrieved November 10, 2008, from Academic Search Elite database.

Cancel Save and New Save

The URL must start with ezproxy to be copyright compliant!

Include a full citation so if the link doesn't work, students can go to the database and re-search for it.

Note: If you email the article to yourself from EbscoHost, you can have it include a citation in either APA or MLA format so you can then copy/paste the citation into D2L]

5. Then test your link in your Learn@UW module.

Article: Debunking the Distance-Learning Myth ← Test the link

Cravotta, N. (2003, January 9). DEBUNKING THE DISTANCE-LEARNING MYTH. EDN, 48 (1), 61. Retrieved November 10, 2008, from Academic Search Elite database.