This presentation will provide an overview of race and ethnic relations in Europe, focusing on current immigration trends, as well as policies towards immigrants and minority groups.

We will discuss issues such as the development of a unified European culture, the treatment of pre-existing and new minorities, Muslim immigrants as the Other, multiculturalism and the ability of European cultures to deal with issues of race, the recent resurgence of nationalism in Europe and the establishment of restrictive policies towards immigrants.