Fall 2015 E-reader Access via D2L

There have been several e-textbook changes that have occurred over the summer.

If you have an old e-text module in your Learn@UW-Stout course shell please delete it. The links in that module will no longer take students to your textbook.

If you have e-reader instructions in your syllabus please incorporate the instructions below.

Students and instructors will be able to access the e-reader platform from the Learn@UW-Stout course using their choice of two different links.

Option 1:

Use the e-Textbooks dropdown menu on the mini navigation bar (yellow arrow below) and choose the e-reader (green arrow).
Option 2:

On the course home page find the e-Textbooks widget (yellow arrow below) and choose the e-reader (green arrow).

Both options will open the e-reader landing page in a second tab. If you get the message “Error There are no books available” your textbook has not been loaded yet. Be patient as all content will be loaded prior to the course start date.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Michael King
University of Wisconsin-Stout
Wisconsin’s Polytechnic University
715-232-2622
Learning Technology Services
IS Business Automation Senior