Stoutward Bound

Multicultural Student Services sponsors a learning and living community provided for first-year American ethnic minority students. This program creates an environment that offers meaningful experiences designed around academic success, campus connections and sense of community. Multicultural Student Services is charged with supporting minority students to graduate from UW-Stout. Stoutward Bound is a successful program that helps achieve this.

Program Benefits:

- Academic Success
- Build confidence
- Learn about campus and community resources
- Leadership development
- Make lifelong friends
- No additional costs/fees to participate

98% of the 2019-2020 participants felt a sense of belonging in Stoutward Bound.

“Stoutward Bound gave me a chance to grow as an individual and to become closer to who I want to be once I graduate.”
- Brittany Zavala

Early Start Learning Community

Students come to campus two weeks before the start of the fall semester to get to know people and campus, begin coursework and participate in college success workshops. During the early start period students participate in a series of workshops to build on study skills and other helpful strategies to strengthen confidence. Scholars will experience an innovative leadership training that will inspire and promote personal, academic and professional growth.

The 40 Stoutward Bound Scholars take two classes together. General Psychology begins two weeks prior to the fall semester and continues on the students’ fall schedule. The second class, Fundamentals of Speech, begins at the start of the spring semester in January.

| EARLY START | Workshops, Leadership Training, & General Psychology | | |
|-----------------|--|------------------------|-----------|
| FALL SEMESTER | PSYC 110 | General Psychology | 3 Credits |
| SPRING SEMESTER | SPCOM 100 | Fundamentals of Speech | 3 Credits |

“I never thought of myself as a scholar until Stoutward Bound, but I am proud to say that I am a scholar because I have been given many resources to be outstanding in my classes in college.”
- Nathalie Bonilla

Inspiring Success

- Scholars will meet with the Multicultural Students Services Coordinator, peer mentors and many other encouraging staff for individualized attention providing a link to campus resources and support.
- Students often do better at UW-Stout and credit Stoutward Bound for making the difference. Students work and play hard together.
- The goal is to have Scholars return for their 2nd year at a higher rate than students that do not participate. Multicultural Student Services is proud to have accomplished this goal through this well-designed program.

Living Community

Stoutward Bound is a multicultural living community for under-represented minority students and supporters of diversity. Students are dedicated to multiculturalism, leadership and academic success. Students move into a designated hall and participate in activities to build a strong community throughout the year. Students love this experience and often reference meeting their best friends during this popular program.

Stoutward Bound Expectations:

- Live on campus for academic year
- Submit Housing deposit and contract before May 1
- Willingness to interact in activities throughout the year
- Meet with MSS Coordinator once a month
- Meet with Peer mentor every other week
